MARKETS AND MEAT ACT

Markets and slaughter houses, how established

1. The Governor may by regulation from time to time and at any time establish and maintain a market or markets and a slaughter house or slaughter houses in any part or parts of or in any place or places in Anguilla and from time to time abolish any such market or slaughter house.

Inspection of meat and animals

2. The Governor may from time to time appoint any fit and proper person to be an inspector of meat and animals under the provisions of this Act and such other officers and servants of any market or markets as may be from time to time required.

Regulations

3. The Governor may from time to time make regulations for all or any of the following subjects—

(a) the regulation of any market or markets and of all persons at or near such market or markets;

(b) the regulation of any slaughter house or slaughter houses, and of all persons at or near such slaughter house or slaughter houses and the conditions under which animals may be slaughtered therein;

(c) market and slaughter house dues;

(d) the sale in Anguilla or in any prescribed area thereof of any butcher's meat;

(e) the inspection of butcher's meat intended for sale and of livestock intended to be slaughtered for meat;

(f) the condemnation and destruction of butcher's meat unfit for human food, with or without compensation;

(g) defining the duties of the inspector of meat and animals and of the officers and servants of any market;

(h) the enforcing and recovery of penalties for breach of any regulation made under this Act;

(i) generally for the good government of markets and slaughter houses and for the better and more effectual carrying out of the provisions of this Act;

and may attach a penalty to the breach of any such regulation which may extend to $3,840 and in the case of a continuing offence a further penalty of $192 in respect of each day of such continuing offence or such other punishment as the nature of the offence or continuing offence may require.

Regulations to be laid before House of Assembly

4. All regulations made under or by virtue of section 3 shall be laid before the House of Assembly for approval and the House of Assembly may approve or amend or disallow such regulations and, upon approval, such regulations shall have the force and effect of law.

Citation

5. This Act may be cited as the Markets and Meat Act, Revised Statutes of Anguilla, Chapter M35.
