Suitably qualified Anguillians are invited to apply for a scholarship to pursue a degree in Land Surveying.

The successful applicant will be required to work in the Department of Lands and Survey upon completion of their studies.

Applicants, preferably, should already have gained acceptance at an accredited Institution in the Caribbean, United Kingdom, United States or Canada. However, applications from applicants without acceptance at an accredited institution would also be considered. The value of the scholarship will be guided by the cost of the programme of study at the University of the West Indies.

Applications, with proof of acceptance at an accredited Institution, if available, should be sent to:

The Secretary
