¹ Standard Industrial Trade Classification

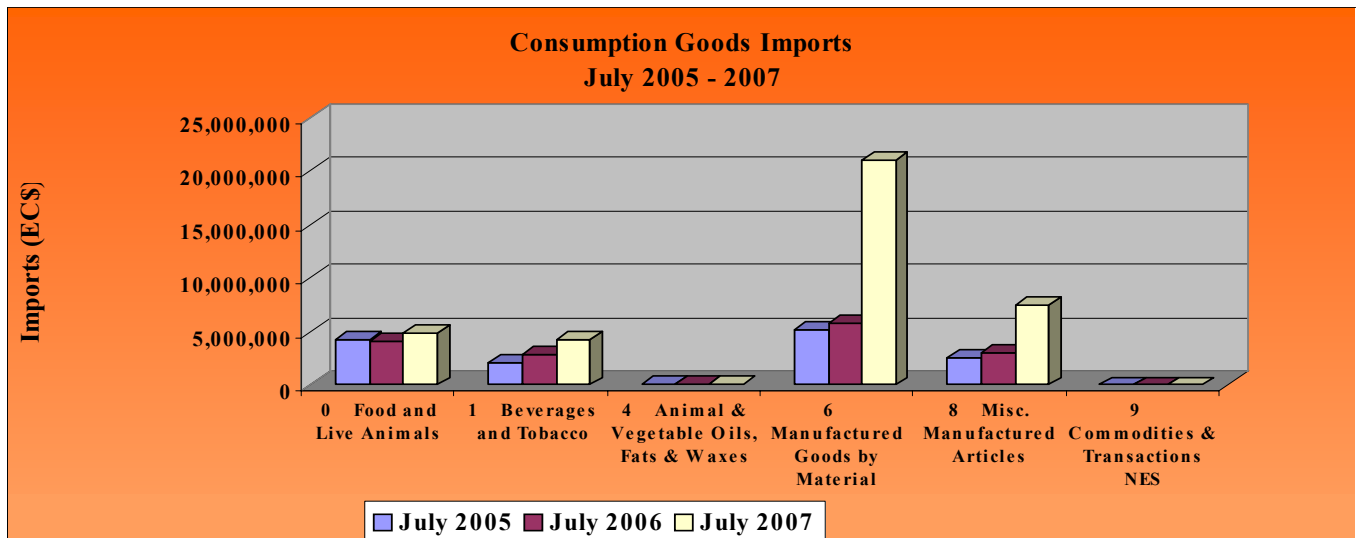

CONSUMPTION GOODS

Consumption Goods accounted for EC$37.7 million of the total import bill, with all components, experiencing increases over their corresponding July 2006 figures.

The Manufactured Goods by Material component contributed the largest value and increase over its 2006 July figure. This component totalled a value of EC$21.0 million which accounted for 55.7% of consumption goods with an increase of 263.2%, which more than tripled its corresponding July 2006 figure. This was due in part, to increases in imports of items used in building construction such as; blocks, stone, cement, plywood, steel etc currently in demand for use in the domestic and tourism sector.

During the month of July 2007, imports within the component, Miscellaneous Manufactured Articles contributed the second largest value and increase to the Consumption Goods category, with a total value of EC$7.4 million. This component experienced an increase of 149.3% over its corresponding 2006 figure, which more than doubled it. This import value accounted for 19.7% of Consumption Goods imports.

Also during this month a rare component, Commodities and Transactions NES for the first time in July and for the past few years contributed EC$820 which barely impacted the import bill.

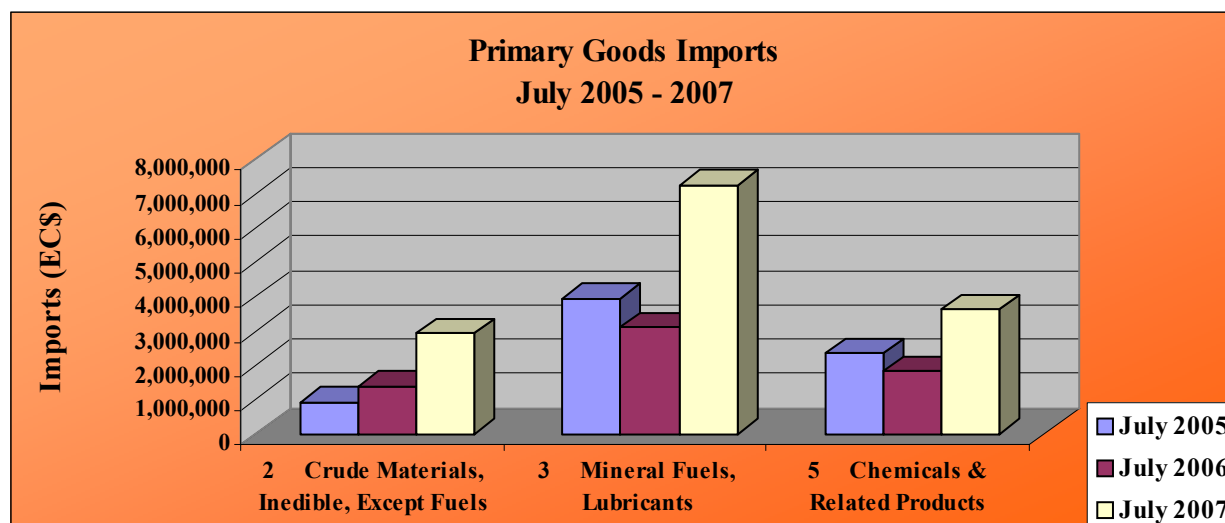

PRIMARY GOODS

Primary Goods accounted for EC$13.8 million of the total import bill, a 119.2% increase more than doubling its corresponding 2006 figure. The component Mineral Fuels and Lubricants accounted for 52.5% of Primary Goods import value and also an increase of 134.5% more doubling July 2006 imports. This increase was fuelled mainly by the increased amounts of diesel oil, petroleum jelly and propane imported during this month.

Chemicals & Related Products contributed EC$3.6 million or 26.3% of Primary Goods. This component experienced an increase of 98.3%, almost doubling its corresponding July 2006 figure. This increase in value was in part due to the imports of paint, P.V.C pipes, mastics etc.

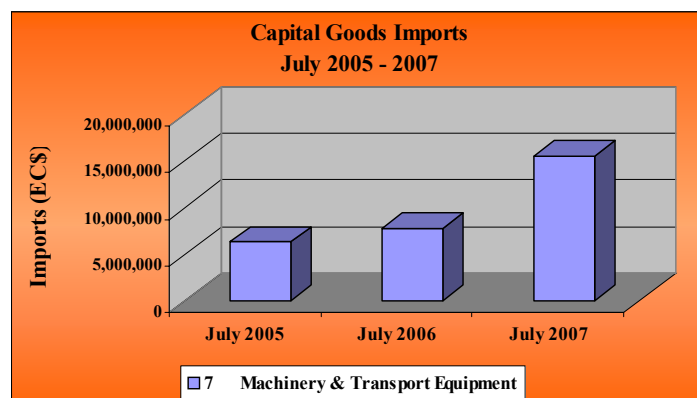

The component Crude Material, Inedible, except Fuels experienced an increase of 112.7% which more than doubled its July 2006 figure. This increase was in part due to the importation of marble and pitch pine wood usually used in the finishing stages of construction and plants of the banana family.

CAPITAL GOODS

Capital Goods accounted for EC$15.5 million, 23.1% of the total import bill, with Machinery and Transport Equipment being the sole component in this category experiencing a 99.0% increase over its corresponding July 2006 figure.

Imports of vehicles and house appliances such as refrigerators, air conditioning units were some of the major contributors to the increase value in this component.
